

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD AT REPUBLICAN SMOKER HELD SATURDAY EVE

Seating Capacity In Rooms Occupied
By Nye County Republican Club Is Taxed to the Limit.

By D. A. Whiting.
One of the largest and best attended smokers of the present campaign was held under the auspices of the Nye County Republican club, at republican headquarters, Saturday night.

Refreshments in the shape of Budweiser, and various brands of good cigars, served to relieve the monotony between speeches.

Jack E. Peck of the Republican Club of Nye County acted as presiding officer.

The first speaker of the evening, Judge Mark R. Averill, reviewed in an able and masterly manner the issues now before the people, giving a brief history of each and every candidate for election on the republican ticket. His remarks met with thunderous applause, the more so because, with characteristic modesty, he failed to mention himself during the course of his address.

He was followed by H. J. Wildgrube, who spoke in behalf of C. O. Burkert of Manhattan, who is a candidate for election to the assembly from that district, and J. A. Buchanan of Round Mountain, candidate for the assembly from his district. Mr. Wildgrube made a very clear and lucid talk for these gentlemen, setting forth their especial qualifications for the offices mentioned.

Justice of the Peace H. H. Atkinson, in his remarks, earnestly requested all those in favor of a good clean administration to aid the party in its efforts to that end.

E. P. Wilson in a well delivered speech laid before his hearers a number of the more important issues pending in the present campaign, and received hearty applause.

Kenneth J. Booth, candidate for the assembly, followed with a number of timely witticisms, apologizing for his inability to add anything to what had already been so comprehensively covered by his eloquent predecessors.

Judge J. F. Dennis made an eloquent appeal to the voters of the camp to consider the wasteful methods employed by those now in power who, he said, had become so inflated with arrogance as to care for nothing save the enrichment of those within their own sphere and party. The judge further said: "I appeal to you gentlemen and voters of Nye county to consider carefully the issues at stake during the present campaign. In nearly every campaign for the past sixteen years the democratic party has had its candidates elected. They have made little or no provision for the good of the state. At all times they have sought to enrich themselves at the expense of the taxpayers."

"The candidates put up for election by that party have been of a kind which might readily be called inefficient. They have squandered the people's money with reckless disregard. They have created offices for their friends at an expense to the people which have never rendered the people one iota of service. Take for example the office of the state publicity bureau—what has that office done for the people of this state, save to burden them with an additional expense of $2400 annually, with no returns. What has the office of state auditor done for the situation in this state? Again, look at the incompetent way in which the affairs of the office of district attorney of our own county are conducted. Up to one year ago that office paid the munificent salary of $7500 a year, and at present pays $5000 annually."

"Most of you are doubtless aware that the county is now hopelessly involved in litigation. That up to the time when Judge Averill took the bench the calendar was crowded. It has taken the learned judge nearly the entire period of his incumbency to clear the calendar which, with proper handling on the part of our district attorney, had been kept up to date at all times."

"These, gentlemen, are but a few of the facts attaching to the administration of the democratic party. I tell you, gentlemen, I could talk on this subject for four hours, and then not be half finished. Gentlemen, I thank you."

Presiding Officer Peck made the closing address, assuring the large gathering that another meeting would soon be held in more commodious quarters, where, he said, a larger crowd could be accommodated.

SUCCESS OF ODDIE IN MINING IS SIGNIFICANT

CHATTER ABOUT HIS INABILITY TO MANAGE BURRO PASTURE
AMOUNTS TO NOTHING

Earl C. Dart, well known to residents of Tonopah, has taken a hand in refuting the cute sayings of the democrats regarding T. L. Oddie. The following letter sent to the Reno Gazette is self-explanatory:

"Dear Sir:—In the Reno 'Political Parvenue' I noticed an article purporting to be an interview with a prospector, which reflected on Mr. Oddie's ability as a ranch manager."

"As a matter of fact Mr. Oddie never seriously aspired to the management of ranches, merely maintaining one as a base of supplies for his various prospecting operations and it successfully served its temporary purpose."

"We all know who were in Tonopah in the early days of the camp, that Mr. Oddie was the successful manager of the Tonopah Mining company's operations from the inception until the mine was put on a fine paying basis, ore blocked out, etc., so that any boy from the mining schools could manage it."

"It was almost entirely Mr. Oddie's work that put it on that basis, and he, more than any ten men I know of, was responsible for the very favorable impression obtaining throughout the eastern money centers, regarding Tonopah and Nevada mines, at that time."

"It was to him that prospectors most often turned for a grubstake, and got it, for he was always ready to take a chance, and never was known to wince when he lost out, as of course, he frequently did."

"These are facts which I challenge anyone who really knows anything of the early history of Tonopah to disprove, so why this silly chatter about a man's ability to 'manage' a burro pasture, who was chiefly instrumental in the successful development of one of the best mines in Nevada. Yours truly,
"EARL C. DART.

CUSTOMS OF THE OLD COUNTRY WERE REVIVED

WEDDING CEREMONY YESTERDAY MORNING WAS INTERESTING AFFAIR

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock Judge H. H. Atkinson officiated at the wedding of George Ralcevic and Soveta Chiprivic, both natives of Montenegro. As a comparison to the American custom, the bride and bridegroom exchanges wedding rings. Refreshments were served to all callers and many of the old country songs were rendered. It was a real joyous affair, and the countrymen and women of the happy couple, residing in Tonopah, all participated in giving the pair a rousing send-off.

DAILY BONANZA ENTERING UPON FIFTH YEAR

PUBLICATION CELEBRATES ITS FOURTH NATAL YEAR
TODAY—HURRAH!

Four years ago today the Bonanza shop was the busiest place in the state. On that occasion happened the birth of this paper and naturally there was confusion. From the weekly, which was started in June, 1901, a daily was started. After days of preparation everything was in readiness to begin the first publication. However, in all newspaper offices, things can go wrong and there was no exception to be noticed with the initial publication. But with all the trouble the daily was started and, strange as it may appear, it is still in existence.

So on our fourth birthday, we are open for congratulations. Many things have happened during the life of the Daily Bonanza, and we hope that many things will continue to happen. We have worked hard for the interest of Tonopah, Nye county, and southern Nevada in general. It is true that we have made enemies, but that always happens in newspaper life. If we have stepped on anybody's toes we apologize, and those who have stepped on ours, we forgive. Life is too short to hold a grudge and as the old saying goes, it is "just one damn thing after another." Of course there may be a few who refuse to forgive, so we will let it go at that.

With the start of the fifth year, we believe that everything points to a better Tonopah, better Nye county and better Nevada. Camps have come and camps have gone, but the best are yet to come. We are of the opinion that the ensuing two years will witness the awakening of the mining world and that Nevada will serve as the alarm clock.

NEW STRIKE HAS BEEN MADE AT VOLCANO CITY

WORK OF PROSPECTING WING-FIELD HOLDINGS REVEALS LEDGE CONTINUATION

Pete Hertel, who is interested in the Cedar Corral district, spent yesterday in looking over that territory, and returned to this city last evening. Mr. Hertel reports that the main shaft on the Wing-field property is now down about 35 feet and still working in the vein. A trench about 300 feet from the main strike has revealed a continuation of the ledge. The ore at this point is about four feet in width with practically the same values as found in the original discovery.

On the property in which Hertel is interested, work has just started. Some promising rock was struck.
